Germans Protest Riots But Poles Disregard Martial Law Edict.

Berlin.—Organized Polish forces have seized large areas in Upper Silesia, killed a number of British and Italian soldiers and forced resignation of the British plebiscite commissioner, according to advices here Thursday.

The commissioner in resigning declared the allied troops were not numerous enough to withstand Poles and guarantee safety of German residents. Press dispatches Thursday indicated the situation was quieter with the Poles in possession of the regions they have seized.

The Polish force was estimated at from 15,000 to 20,000 well armed and equipped with light artillery. The small Italian contingent was said to have suffered numerous casualties and the British sustained a few losses.

Germany Thursday awaited a response to a note of protest sent the allies in London.

Scott at Martial Law

Parts of Upper Silesia are under martial law, declared by the international commission.

The decree was ineffective, however, and large bands of Poles marched through the country, terrorizing the inhabitants.

A large Polish force marched into Katowitz in the early morning and stormed newspaper offices and the police station. The French launched an attack with tanks and the invaders withdrew. The French took 300 rifles.

French sentries roused the small cavalry detachment at Tarnowitz and the horsemen in a flying charge through the dark street broke up invading parties.

Two Poles were killed and other casualties were inflicted.

Martial law was declared in Katowitz, Pless, Rybnik and other towns, but the Poles disregarded the decree. German representatives in Upper Silesia declared the Poles were attempting a flat accomplishment of their aims by the seizure of portions of the region the allies would be influenced to disregard the recent plebiscite.

At the foreign office here it was stated that the country around Beuthen is in the hands of the rioters. The railway bridge at Gleiwitz was said to have been dynamited and railway and telegraph service interrupted.

BUNGALOW MURDER
MYSTIFIES POLICEUnable to Find Trace of Person who Administered Poison to Girl.

By United Press Leased Wire
Los Angeles.—Efforts of police to learn who administered the poison which is alleged to have caused the death of Miss Marie Vance in a "love bungalow" here, were still without result Thursday.

Authorities have been unable to obtain any trace of the nicotine poison which a postmortem showed caused the girl's death, or of another strange poison which was found in pills at the girl's bedside.

The police apparently have struck a stone wall in their attempt to trace the person who purchased the poison or who caused it to be administered to the woman.

Added weight was given to the conviction of police that the girl was murdered when an aunt living here, informed authorities that she was slain.

The girl could not have committed suicide, she claimed, because she was too weak to obtain the poison if it had been her desire to take her own life.

Miss Vance was in the company of a wealthy eastern man here. She came from Chicago, where her father is a wealthy doctor. She was in a delicate condition when she died. The death certificate was made out with diphtheria given as the cause of death and her body shipped to Chicago in a sealed casket.

EMPLOYERS FIRM AGAINST GRANTING 44-HOUR WEEK

Chicago.—Telegrams pouring into the headquarters of the National 48-Hour League Thursday indicate a firm stand has been taken by the organization's members in opposing the strike of union printers for a 44-hour week.

The National 48-Hour League represents both closed and open shop employers. It has 5,034 members, distributed over 43 states, and advocates "forty-eight hours work for forty-eight hours pay."

MORSE HEAD DIES

Court A
Beauvais Note
Into Records

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—An "alleged love letter" from Fred Beauvais, French-Canadian guide named as correspondent in the Stillman divorce suit, to Mrs. Ed Potter Stillman, was admitted to the records Thursday by Justice Daniel J. Gleason, referee, before whom the case is being tried in secret.

Practically the entire session was taken up with arguments over the admissibility of seven letters alleged to have been written to Mrs. Stillman by Beauvais. Gleason finally admitted one, withholding his decision on the other six.

Dr. Hugh Russell, of Buffalo, said to have attended members of the Stillman family during 1917 and 1918, was the principal witness Thursday.

He is understood to have testified regarding conversations with Mrs. Stillman. The conversations were presumed not to have been of a professional nature, since such conversations are not usually considered privileged.

An unidentified man, as far as the public is concerned, testified that he was a hotel clerk in Buffalo and is understood to have said Mrs. Stillman was in Buffalo at some time while he was clerking there and had two of her children with her. Beauvais is alleged to have been in Buffalo at the same time but the clerk, it was said, was unable to establish whether Beauvais and Mrs. Stillman stopped at the same hotel.

ESTABLISH LOWER
RATES FOR HAULING ROAD MATERIALSRailroad Commission Hopes to Stimulate Movement of Sand and Gravel.

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison.—The railroad commission Thursday established reduced rates on sand and gravel and crushed stone within Wisconsin ranging from 9 to 38 per cent.

The new rates are effective midnight, May 14.

The new schedules apply to the Chicago and Northwestern system, the Soo line, the Burlington, the Chicago Milwaukee and St. Paul and the Green Bay and Western railway lines.

The commission found the existing rates caused a reduction in the movement of this class of freight and resulted in the curtailment of industrial and highway construction.

The new rates only effect distances up to 100 miles, the average haul for this class of freight being between 30 and 60 miles.

The decision reestablishes the mileage basis in rate making which was to a large extent destroyed by arbitrary increases during and following the war.

The new rates are the result of an application made by the Wisconsin Mineral Aggregate association, composed of the owners of most of the larger sand and gravel pits and quarries.

The new schedule ranges from 2.3 per hundredweight for five miles, to 4.3 per hundredweight for 100 miles. The greatest reductions are made in the short hauls.

$1,000,000 LOSS
CAUSED BY STORM

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—Gales and torrential rains lashed the Atlantic coast Thursday following a stormy night in which the wind blew 75 miles an hour, doing more than $1,000,000 damage in New York area vicinity.

The fishing schooner Julia was driven ashore near Bay Head, New Jersey. The crew was rescued.

Five men were rescued from a swamped barge 200 yards off Staten Island Thursday.

During the night telephone, trolley and power lines were broken, scores of signs and poles were blown down and shipping in the harbor was threatened.

Several were reported injured in Greater New York by signs and wind hurled missiles.

ACTRESS IS GRANTED
DIVORCE FROM HUBBY

London.—Margaret Bannerman, Canadian actress, has been granted a divorce from Pat Somerset, an actor on the grounds of cruelty.

Edith Day of Minneapolis, Minn., was named as the "other woman" in the case.

Miss Day's former maid testified that Miss Day and Somerset are now living together at Torquay.

Miss Day, who scored great success in the American musical comedy "Irene," here last season following a similar triumph on Broadway, suddenly triumphed from the east last winter on the plea she needed a rest. She returned for brief period, only to leave again.

Miss Bannerman, who is the daughter of Ambrose Smith of Winnipeg, testified that Somerset compelled her to pawn her jewelry to provide money for him to gamble. Somerset, whose real name is Holme-Sumner and who is the son of a naval captain, entered a denial but did not deny the suit.

French Pay Tribute

HAVE "FALLING OUT"Bancroft and McCorkle Call
Each Other Names at Hearing in Madison.

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison.—"Liars," "angle worms," "cowards," "crooks," were some of the words used Wednesday when two Wisconsin judges fell upon each other before the senate judiciary committee.

The principals were Judge Levi Bancroft of Richland Center, and County Judge W. S. McCorkle of Richland county.

Judge McCorkle was opposing the Cushman bill, passed by the assembly and restricting the powers of the county court of which he is the presiding judge. Judge McCorkle intimated a conspiracy to legislate him out of office.

"Anyone who says I am implicated in a conspiracy about the county court of Richland county, is a liar," retorted Judge Bancroft.

"I am prepared to back up this statement any time, any place and against anyone," he added.

"I would like to put vertebrae in these angle worms," Judge Bancroft told the committee in commenting on things in general and his personal enemies in particular.

"This county suffers more from cowards than crooks. I don't care what a man is, anarchist, socialist, stalwart, progressive, if he has back bone. I would not become impressed if I had not been publicly insulted to day," Judge Bancroft said.

"I am not interested in his court and never was. The judge flatters himself to think I consider him important enough to go after his scalp."

The falling out of the two judges dated back to the recent judicial campaign in which Judge Bancroft was defeated for reelection.

The committee deferred action on the bill.

REVOLT STARTS ON
MEXICO'S "JULY 4"

By United Press Leased Wire
San Diego, Cal.—May 5, Mexican independence day, saw Esteban Cantu's revolution in Lower California under way.

Cantu, insurgents were in possession of La Puerta, Lower California, 45 miles south of San Diego, according to advices from Tecate, 40 miles south of the border.

Revolutionists drove the federal garrison from La Puerta after guerrilla fighting Wednesday.

Reports reaching here said several members of the Tecate garrison as well as several revolutionists were wounded.

Tijuana, just across the border from San Diego, was prepared Thursday for an attempted seizure of the town or for a revolutionary outbreak by Cantu sympathizers there.

The uprising is generally considered as marking an attempt to make Cantu, former governor of Lower California under Carranza, president of Mexico. Cantu, who has been living in Los Angeles since he was removed from the governorship by the Obregon government, is understood to have large financial resources.

Tattered Flags of Napoleon's Regime Wave Over Veterans of World War.

By United Press Leased Wire
Paris.—Tattered banners that fluttered over Napoleon's "old grumblers" as they marched from victory to victory, floated with the tricolors Thursday over a new generation of soldiers.

The tension of war gripped cheering thousands along the Champ Elysee, realizing that their country still stands on the brink of possible conflict with Prussia, once crushed by the "little corporal," whose death centenary they were commemorating.

"We will not let Prussia rise again," War Minister Barthou declared during the exercises.

Napoleon's flags appeared in the memorial parade, evoking cheers comparable only to those which greeted French soldiers returning from the great war.

The nation's highest officials gathered at the Arc d'Triomphe to offer their eulogies to Napoleon. Thousands lined the Champ Elysee as rolling drums called the troops to assemble in the Place de la Concord.

Cheers rose and fell as the troops passed. Then came a sustained roar as the tattered banner of the famous Fifth regiment appeared borne by a special color guard.

NEW LONDON STORE
ROBBED BY BANDITS

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New London.—Burglars broke into the E. E. Crispy clothing store here Wednesday night and escaped with wearing apparel worth about $500.

The loot consisted of men's suits, silk shirts, gloves, hats, socks and other clothing. It is believed the theft was committed by local persons who were familiar with arrangements in the store.

Entrance was effected through a rear door. A panel was removed from an outer door and the second door was cut with a saw and the lock removed. This is the second store to be burglarized. The Vandere store was entered some months ago and clothing valued at several thousand dollars was taken.

What the European allies want is America's signature to the Versailles treaty no matter how many reservations are made. They are apprehensive, of course, that settled questions may possibly be reopened by such a course but they prefer it to the negotiation of a separate treaty between the United States and Germany. The latter move, they believe, would forever be looked upon by Germany as a wedge between the United States and her associates in the war and would be a source of continuous embarrassment in the next decade especially since the allies believe their troubles with Germany will not vanish with the settlement of the reparations controversy.

Chicago.—James McDonough, sole support of six brothers and sisters, was shot through the heart early Thursday.

McDonough, an employee of the Ira J. Mix Dairy company, was delivering milk on a south side route.

Neighbors heard two shots and found the driver dead in his wagon.

Police are working on the theory that one of McDonough's rivals for the hand of Thelma Shomo, south side belle, did the shooting.

HARDING ASKS FREE HAND

President Wants Congress to Keep Its Hands Off Conduct of Foreign Affairs.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1921

Washington.—President Harding looks somewhat careworn. The weight of responsibility rests heavily on him. No longer does he wear the senatorial manner, the seeming ease and abandon of the capital cloakrooms; he looks and acts the part of a chief executive, whose time for smiles and banter are lost in the seriousness of a huge task.

The president has found it necessary to beg the senate to remember that the chief executive can't do effective work if the members of the legislative body insist on invading what he considers his legitimate jurisdiction—the handling of foreign policy questions of disarmament, the recall of troops from the Rhine and kindred matters.

Mr. Harding isn't seeking a quarrel with the senate. He is doing everything in his power to avoid one. But all the senators aren't cooperating with him in a way that spells teamwork. Time was when members of congress would keep the White House informed if they intended introducing bills or making speeches that touched on the sphere of the executive. As a consequence little evidences of a lack of teamwork are exaggerated in reports of friction.

Was Personal Opinion

The most important case in point has been cleared up at the White House. And everybody who heard Senator Lodge under the speech advocating passage of the Knox resolution was surprised to hear him express the opinion that the Versailles treaty couldn't be modified by reservations in such a way as to make it satisfactory to the United States. Not only was this a surprise because Mr. Lodge himself has been the author of two sets of reservations but the impression obtained was that Senator Lodge after conferences with President Harding or Secretary Hughes had come to the conclusion that the job of amending the treaty had been given up as hopeless by the Harding administration.

Inquiry was made to determine whether the president had arrived at such a conclusion. It will be recalled that in his message to congress, the president said it was wiser to accept the existing treaty with modifications "assuming, of course, that this can be satisfactorily accomplished by such explicit reservations and modifications as will secure our absolute freedom from inadvisable commitments, and safeguard all our essential interests."

From Senator Lodge's speech it was inferred that a conclusion had been reached and that a new treaty with Germany would have to be negotiated. But a direct answer to the inquiry brings officially from the Harding administration the response that it knows of no such conclusion. This means that Charles Evans Hughes, legal surgeon, has not yet reported as hopeless the task of caring out of the body of the Versailles treaty such parts as are objectionable to the United States.

Quite a flurry was caused among observing diplomats when the speech of Senator Lodge was read by them in the Congressional Record. They wondered if the Harding administration had reversed itself. Now it appears that Senator Lodge was merely expressing a personal opinion that the job of legal surgery couldn't be done. He said he tried it and that it required seventy-two amendments. Inasmuch as the treaty contains over four hundred sections, foreign governments, if all are accepted here, would not consider seventy-two amendments out of proportion.

Want U. S. Signature

What the European allies want is America's signature to the Versailles treaty no matter how many reservations are made. They are apprehensive, of course, that settled questions may possibly be reopened by such a course but they prefer it to the negotiation of a separate treaty between the United States and Germany. The latter move, they believe, would forever be looked upon by Germany as a wedge between the United States and her associates in the war and would be a source of continuous embarrassment in the next decade especially since the allies believe their troubles with Germany will not vanish with the settlement of the reparations controversy.

President Harding is just as anxious incidentally to make a move for disarmament as anybody in the senate.

BORAH'S DISARMAMENT
AMENDMENT IS DOOMED

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Refusal of the senate naval affairs committee to include Senator Borah's disarmament amendment in the naval appropriation bill was believed Thursday to foreshadow rejection of the proposal by the senate.

The Republican majority intends to accept President Harding's view that he should not be dictated to about foreign policies.

Borah, however, takes the position that the amendment is not an attempt to dictate to the executive, but merely to put congress on record on the principle of disarmament.

GERMAN CABINET FALLS

Ministry Resigns Because of Dissatisfaction Over Reparations.

By United Press Leased Wire
London.—The allies Thursday served Germany with an ultimatum demanding acceptance of their reparations terms by May 12.

The allies will proceed on May 12 to accompany the Ruhr valley and to take other military and naval steps if Germany does not accept unequivocally, according to the ultimatum.

Occupation of German territory will continue as long as Germany refuses to fulfill the conditions laid down by the allies.

The note, signed by members of the supreme council and handed to German Ambassador Scharrer shortly before 11 a. m. Thursday states that the allies will proceed immediately with preliminary measures for occupation of the Ruhr valley.

Two detailed financial demands, prepared by the reparations committee, it was stated, will be handed the German mission in Paris Friday.

Fixes Time For Payment

It prescribes the time and the method of discharging the German debt which totals 6,750,000,000 pounds.

Within six days following receipt of the reparations note, Germany is called upon to declare her determination to execute her obligations without reservation or condition.

The same demand was made with regard to the offering of guarantees for the debt. Renewed demands were made for disarmament of German soldiers, trial of war criminals and for carrying out other obligations incurred in the signing of the Versailles treaty.

German Cabinet Falls

Berlin.—The complexion of a new German cabinet to supplant the one just resigned, was to be determined Thursday at a meeting of the reichstag's foreign committee.

It was believed the ministry will be a coalition. Majority specialists showed a desire to avoid responsibility for the grave decisions which must be made soon in regard to reparations.

The reparations negotiations led up to the resignation of Chancellor Constantin Fehrenbach, Foreign Minister Von Simons and their colleagues. The Silesian situation where the Poles now are fighting the Germans was a minor cause.

President Ebert has asked his ministers to remain in office until another cabinet can be formed. It is believed Gustav Stresemann, leader of the people's party, will be asked to head the ministry.

Take Guns Away

London.—Germany must be compelled to disarm so France can take her eyes off the frontier, Premier Lloyd George told the house of commons Thursday, in announcing the allied reparations ultimatum to Berlin.

The premier declared the disarmament demand was one of the most important sections of the ultimatum.

Reviewing the conference of the allied supreme council Lloyd George said the ultimatum was served "not because Germany had defaulted on terms of the peace treaty, but because of her general attitude."

"It is most necessary," he said, "that Germany be compelled to disarm so that France can take her eyes from the frontier."

"The supreme council," he said, "is convinced that the terms devised by it and the reparations commission are fair to Germany and that they are workable."

The premier appeared before the house late in the day after having personally handed the allied note to the German ambassador.

Sees No Objection to Having

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C.—Packer control legislation, the subject of sharp fighting in the last congress Thursday was endorsed by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace.

Appearing before the house agricultural committee, Wallace declared that the legislation would be "desirable" now. Many of the complaints against the packers are "fully justified."

Wallace suggested that packer regulation be consolidated in one bureau of the government instead of being distributed between the department of agriculture and the interstate commerce commission as provided in the pending bill.

"I believe it would be better to have the supervisory body under the department of agriculture since that department is close to the agricultural interests," he said.

"The department already has collected a large amount of information on the packing industry."

Wallace said that if the distribution of meat products is to be cheapened eventually, the government must allow the big packers to return to the retail field.

"Of course it must be seen that the previous practices of the packers of driving the small businessman out of the market are not resumed."

Wallace also indicated he saw no objection to the packers being allowed to deal in the so-called "unrelated products." This was prohibited by the "consent decree" contained by former Attorney General Palmer. Such business, Wallace said, should be under strict governmental regulation.

"What's the difference, George, how the leaves run?"

"It's done to make the Adlon burn evenly. You get an easy 'draw' from end to end. You'll appreciate this advantage if you've ever smoked cigars that burn down on one side."

"You'll observe, too, the excellence of the binder used in Adlon Cigars.

"The wrapper is fine Sumatra tobacco; the best growth in the world for a cigar wrapper. Notice its fine texture! Its uniform color! That leaf is imported especially for Adlon.

"The blending of these tobaccos produces a remarkably smooth, satisfying smoke."

"Is the Adlon blend different from any other?"

"Yes, indeed! It took many years of careful study and some 500 tests of different tobaccos to create the Adlon blend.

"In all my experience with cigars I have never found one—no matter how high-priced—that is produced with as much care and attention to detail as Adlon. And, I started at a cigar-maker's bench!"

"You're pretty well sold on Adlon, aren't you, George?"

"I consider Adlon an extraordinary cigar. When you draw the last puff you're getting the same rare flavor that was there when you lit Adlon."

You can get Adlon—the best cigar you can buy—from any good dealer.

Tonight

Friday

3:45 p. m., "Cheerful Boosters" meeting in First Methodist church.
7:30 p. m., "The Wayside Cross."
Last night was "Law Enforcement" night at the McCombe-Class meetings in Lawrence chapel, and a unique program introduced the service. The local W. C. T. U. attended the service in a body and were recognized as guests of honor. The choir sang a song with a somewhat humorous climax entitled, "The walls of Jericho fell down flat," and Dr. McCombe gave a brief prelude on "Law Enforcement." When he tried to raise the American flag he found it held down by a jug of "Booze." After trying, in various ways, to release the flag he brought out a large axe labeled "law enforcement" and smashed the jug and liberated the flag. A resolution which requests Governor Blaine to sign the Matheson bill was unanimously adopted.

Dr. McCombe preached a sermon on "The man who went 150 miles to take a bath," using as his scripture basis
"Naaman was a mighty man of valor;
but he was a leper. Wash and be clean; and he was clean." The speaker said, in part:
"These opening words show how generous the word of God is; it tells the best as well as the worst. Some folks seldom commend the best that men do. They will approach a clean, honorable man as though he were
the worst sinner in the community.
Naaman was a great man and honorable. He had a big name. He was also a man of valor; he had a fighting record. But he was a leper. Leprousy is a type of sin from start to finish.
"It is marvelous how much of the Word of God is given over to nameless people. Many of us are content to do nothing when we should be anxious to do our best, even though we have no great names. A little maid learned of the trouble in the home of Major General Naaman. She told his wife of the hope for her master if he could visit the prophet in Israel. So Naaman started his 150 mile journey to find a cure. The little maid started that work because she loved her master. The only way in which it is possible for us to win souls for Christ is by love for them. As she had faith in the prophet, so must we have faith in God. And her life was in harmony with her profession. If you have nothing in your heart to commend to folks don't try to get them into a Christian life. But folks cannot stand against your consecrated Christian life.

"Naaman took $500,000 worth of goods with him to pay the doctor.
How many folks would gladly pay in money to get rid of their sins! When the prophet told Naaman to dip in the Jordan seven times he insisted on going back to the rivers of his own country. So, many folks, as soon as they are told what God requires, insist on having things done in some other way. It is a dangerous thing to try to dictate terms to God. Some folks say they will never be converted under an evangelist or that they will not do the thing that the evangelist proposes. But when you say you will not do a certain thing it is very likely that you will have to do that very thing. It is a matter of principle; it is your will that must be surrendered.
"While Naaman was in a rage some one said a very diplomatic thing. It is a great thing to have tact enough to say the right thing when folks are hot under the collar. So Naaman went to the banks of the Jordan and found it muddy. But he bathed seven times, as the prophet commanded, and he was healed. But for that little girl he would have died a leper. What a great thing it is to have led some folks to the Savior who makes men clean!"

Mr. Clase urged every friend of the campaign to wear one of the "Howdy!

Girl's Eyes
Vamp Them
Fascinating Orbs Make Men
Look Twice
"Oh, did you see that girl's eyes!"
Whenever you see a beautiful girl, it is always here eyes that are remarked about.
Beautiful eyes depend upon two things: Beautiful lashes and beautiful brows. Rich, dark, silky lashes, and dark, well-defined brows will always make the eyes beautiful.
Every girl may now have beautiful brows and lashes, with the fascination that is thus imparted to the eyes, by using Orbitone. This is a simple, harmless preparation which quickly promotes the natural growth of brows and lashes, giving them that luxuriant, silken appearance.
Orbitone comes in three shades:
Light, brown and dark. The brown and the dark instantly darken the brows and lashes. This preparation is in the form of a cream, which prevents the lashes from becoming brittle. It is easily and quickly applied with the tips of the fingers.
Three hundred dollars cash
prizes will be given away to the users of Orbitone for the best advertising slogans. Watch these advertisements for particulars.
Orbitone may be purchased at J. E. Voigt or at any well-stocked drug store, or it will be sent direct on receipt of fifty cents by the Or-bitone Laboratories Company, 1259

BALKS AT REARING BOTTLE-FED PIGLETS

Who wants to rear six baby pigs on a nursing bottle? August Wickensberg, town of Grand Chute, is trying to figure out how to accomplish this. One of his valued sows gave birth to the six little ones and died before they were three days old. The only way they will take nourishment is through a nipple and Mr.
Wickensberg hasn't quite decided whether he has the time to devise to rearing piglets in this manner.

driving and blew his horn twice as a warning for the boys to get out of the street. They did so and just as he got opposite them young DeGuire shot across the street immediately

It was an enthusiastic body of men that gathered in the Y. M. C. A. building to enjoy the supper and good fellowship with the McCombe-Class evangelistic party Wednesday night. There was "something doing" every minute after the men were seated at the tables. The men sang popular songs while being served and while they were eating Mr. Clase entertained with splendid tenor solos and a humorous reading. The McCombe-Class quartet sang and was enthusiastically encored, after which Mr. and Mrs.
Clase sang a duet and then Mr. Clase led the men in round singing and whistling. Dr. McCombe closed the hour with another of his virile men's messages. He found a unique basis for his address in the statement that there were five creatures which the men of an oriental army of long ago were not allowed to eat: the owl, the vulture, the bat, the chameleon and the snail. He referred the men to the

MY FIRST JOB

B. C. WOLTER
Proprietor of Implement Co.
I began teaching school shortly after I graduated from the university. I received full charge of the West Pen-sauke school at a salary of $100 a there. They would take the older students as assistants to teach the lower grades.

The school was considered the best in the county inasmuch as the work accomplished there was greater than at other schools. But it was noted as a tough place also, and it was quite a task to keep a teacher on the job.
I was mixed in athletics at the uni-due to that ability of mine that I was recommended for the place.

DEPOPULATING EUROPE

A writer in the London Outlook seriously considers the possibility of an early transfer of population, wealth and power from the Old world to the New. The trend has long been plain, but he contemplates a change in civilization's center of gravity sooner than most Europeans have expected. The United States, he points out, has grown in 60 years from "an immature community of 38,000,000 to a mighty nation of over 100,000,000." Argentina in the same period has adopted 5,000,000 Europeans, and has as yet only 8,000,000 inhabitants for an area of over 1,000,000 square miles. Canada is in a somewhat similar situation though with more territory. Mexico and all of South and Central America offer alluring opportunities to Europeans in their present plight. He quotes figures showing that 8,000,000 Germans and 3,000,000 Polish Jews are waiting to come to America, and estimates there are millions of others eager to come. "Let us suppose," he says, "that the more gloomy forecasts of Europe come to pass in the next two generations, and that life in the Old world, becomes a hopeless struggle for bare subsistence. It is not fanciful to assume that in such circumstances the population may have dwindled one-fourth at the end of that period. The decrease would represent much more than its numerical proportion, for this fourth would be drawn mainly from adults in the working period of life, and this transference of man-power must be doubled in a competitive sense."

In other words, about 100,000,000 people might emigrate from Europe in the next 60 years, and the practical effect might be to reduce Europe's political, military, industrial and commercial effectiveness by one-half. That additional hundred millions, he thinks, might well give this hemisphere "the center of gravity of the world's activity." There is something artificial, anyway, he declares, about the "centripetal importance of London." Wherefore: "Give the two Americas and Australia a white population approximately to that of Europe today, and the cradle of western civilization might sink to the position of an interesting survival, the mecca of the New world's pilgrims, a large-scale Switzerland living on the spendings of alien holidaymakers."

The average American will find nothing surprising in such a prognostication as this. "Westward the course of empire takes its way." That doctrine is bred in the blood of our race. The vision of the United States as the dominant world power has been growing clearer than ever since the World war. It is surely only a question of time—and no prolonged time, at that, if the signs are read clearly. One thing, though, should be clearly understood, both here and abroad. The United States does not want all, nor half, of that emigrating European population. Let the rest of the hemisphere have its share—we prefer to retain our national identity and develop along the native lines already established.

MAIL AS YOU WRITE

The United States postal service has not been all that it might be in recent years. Yet the honest complainer is occasionally obliged to admit that much of the inefficiency has been the fault of the public itself. Illegible writing and incorrect or insufficient addressing have wasted the time of many postal clerks and caused many pieces of mail to go astray or end in the dead letter office.

The Boston Chamber of Commerce has recently organized a campaign to do away with another of the public's bad habits. Its slogan is "Mail as you write," and its purpose is to get business firms and offices sending out large batches of letters every day to deposit them in the mail boxes or postoffice in small quantities at frequent intervals instead of in great piles at the close of the business day. The latter method is pointed out as not only inconsiderate, but illogical and thoughtless.

Posting at intervals during the day would permit more prompt sorting of the mail and might enable much of it to get started toward its destination a few hours earlier. In the big cities where there are man trains all day long, or in the smaller communities where there are only one or two mail trains a day, such cooperation between mailer and postoffice would be equally helpful. Less haste and crowding at stated periods, with steadier and lighter work over a whole day, would no doubt increase accuracy and speed in handling this type of mail.

NO ALIEN LAND-OWNERS

The Nebraska law, recently enacted, forbidding all aliens to acquire title to land, has an application broader than that for which it seems to have been primarily intended—the exclusion of the Japanese.

It is an effective barrier against such Japanese landlordism as has become a problem in California and other Pacific coast states. Inasmuch as members of the yellow race are barred from citizenship they become automatically and permanently ineligible to land-ownership. Canada has used this device with apparently satisfactory results. It has the advantage over other forms of anti-Japanese legislation of applying to all races, and thereby avoiding the appearance of racial discrimination which is so distasteful to the Japanese. In fact, Japan herself is said to have such a law.

Japan has been reported as not objecting seriously to such legislation in the United States, because it would enable her to "save her face." For most of the states it would probably suffice to meet the menace of Japanese invasion in agricultural districts, although it would not fully solve the problem in a state like California, which has already a fairly large Japanese population, with many yellow children being born who, as natives, would presumably be entitled to own land.

The general advantages of such a law seem great enough to warrant its adoption by any state, without regard to oriental considerations. If a European immigrant cannot own real estate without being a citizen, there will be a powerful incentive for him to seek citizenship instead of living and earning money here for decades, while remaining an alien in law and in fact. It would be a justifiable bit of compulsory Americanism. There could be no valid objection, for any foreign-born resident who is unwilling to undertake the duties of citizenship does not deserve to enjoy civic privileges to that extent.

THE ROOSEVELT COIN

Representative Appleby of New Jersey has introduced a bill into congress providing for the coinage of a two and one-half cent piece, bearing the likeness of Theodore Roosevelt and the date of his birth and death. This project has been talked of for some time, and it is quite possible that the new coin will be authorized. It will be made large enough to distinguish it from the penny.

Such a coin should find a useful place in American currency. It would make the nickel exactly divisible by two, and would do away with a bit of unfairness all too common, by which the customer always has to pay the extra half-cent when a cent is split.

Now if some patriot will increase the number of modest items which can be purchased with small currency, everybody will appreciate it. In these days of exaggerated ideas and false standards one is ashamed to offer even a small child a small coin. The look of bewilderment as he tries to figure out what earthly good it will do him is too much for even a strong man to bear.

CONSISTENCY

By Bertie Realey

He stood on a soap-box and ranted.
He talked of "oppression and woe,"
With vigorous protest he panted
While waving his arms to and fro:
Our rulers, he said, were despotic
And bound that free-speaking should cease
(He spoke in this fashion neuritic While guarded by seven police)

He talked about "tyranny" fearful,
He said we were bound and enslaved;
He waxed both emphatic and tearful
And while in a frenzy he raved
The laws that he flouted and he flouted
Protected his frame from the mob
(Or else, it can scarcely be doubted Someone would have caved in his nob)

And so, with a verve undiminished
He spouted red gospel aloud
—And the cops, when his mouthings were finished Escorted him out of the crowd!

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. ### SIMPLE CHRONIC RHINITIS

A simple chronic inflammation of the lining of the nasal passages is an exceedingly popular condition and has much to do with the popular catching cold bugaboo, for one with this condition certainly is abnormally sensitive to trifling exposures, sudden change of surface temperature, wet feet and the like. Whereas a normal individual experiences no serious discomfort from such trifling exposures as are incidental in the day's work or play, one with simple chronic rhinitis stuffs up and runs on the slightest provocation, because the disease impairs the natural vasomotor tone or circulation in the nose lining. A man with a broken leg should not attempt to jump the rope for exercise; but if he injures himself jumping rope he should not deduce that rope jumping is bad for everybody else since it is so obviously the usual cause of his own injury. If the victim of simple chronic rhinitis has enough brain power to apply this kind of logic he may find it will do him good, for certainly the best thing that can happen to him is the loss of his exposure phobia.

Acute infection of the nasal lining membrane vulgarly still called simple "cold," though the only simple thing about it is the victim, generally leaves some temporary congestion and thickening of the mucous membrane. With luck as regards open air and freedom from further infection this may clear up in a few weeks, but if the victim is presently reinfected by some generous friend or associate who takes little stock in this "germ theory," the clearing up process is seriously deranged. A number of such insults in the course of a season or a year will almost inevitably lead to permanent congestion and thickening of the lining membrane, and that is simple chronic rhinitis.

Simple chronic rhinitis is a familiar accompaniment of adenoids and enlarged tonsils in children; it often goes untreated and causes disappointment after operative removal of adenoids and tonsils. When a child or any one else has a persistent nasal discharge, stuffiness of the nose much of the time, or mouth breathing any of the time, a careful nasal examination is in order. A few of the older doctors still in practice are both incompetent and unwilling to make such examination; nearly every younger doctor now in practice is competent and equipped to look into the nasal cavity. It is here that a great part of the sickness which a doctor meets with gains entrance, and the good physician must attack disease at its source if he is to prevent disasters which he himself frankly acknowledges he cannot cure.

These, then, are the characteristic expressions of chronic rhinitis: (1) The victim purports to "take cold" in the head easily. (2) There is excessive nasal discharge. (3) The nose becomes "stuffy" with every draft, change of clothes, etc., and sneezing is excited by similar influences—accounting for the absurd fancy that one is "taking more cold." (4) Now one side, now the other, is closed up, if tested by breathing with one nostril closed.

The hygienic and local management of chronic rhinitis will be dealt with in subsequent talks.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Olive Oil or Butter?

I am a riveter in a shipyard. I take a tablespoonful of pure Italian olive oil three times a day. Is that good to put on flesh? I have a good appetite and am healthy so far as I know—6 feet tall, 170 pounds, age 31 years. (H. J.)

ANSWER—Olive oil is as right as a fiddle. Immaterial whether it is of Italian or American extraction. It is inferior to butter, for butter contains vitamins which probably favor general nutrition. Besides your regular three meals a day, take a bedtime lunch of a pint or more of fresh milk with some crackers or bread. That will bring your weight up to normal in a few months, other things being equal.

Physiology

We are having a discussion in our physiology class about corns. There is a difference of opinion as to whether corns start from the bone. We decided to ask you to enlighten us about it. (G. H.)

ANSWER—Corns fall rather under the head of pathology. Corns do not spring from bone, but from the skin.

Terribly Extravagant Man

Please publish in your column what you think of a man smoking from forty to fifty cigars a week, besides pipe and some cigarettes. My husband is the guilty man, and he insists it does him no harm. He is very nervous (sometimes I think had-tempered a more honest term). His nervousness he ascribes to his responsible position at work. (Mrs. K. P. B.)

ANSWER—Should Friend Husband at any time have any qualms or doubts of the wisdom of the course he is following I'll be glad to send him some helpful suggestions for breaking or at least curbing the habit. His abuse cannot fail to do him grave harm.

Return Of The Hobo

By Frederic J. Haskin

Washington, D. C.—After disappearing almost completely for several years, the hobo is back again all over the country now.

The army of men which moves across the country as the uninvited guests of the railroads and the public is once more mobilizing. Again he has the quest at the back door for a hand-out. The water tank has again become the waiting room for these non-paying passengers, and its strange collection of cabalistic writings, which are of so much value to the wandering fraternity, is being renewed. Theft of freight is again mounting to an enormous figure, jails and workhouses are filling up, petty offenses are on the increase.

Popular opinion in this country has always held the tramp to be a man who would not work under any circumstances. This theory was dealt a blow by the fact that during the war the Army and industry seems to have absorbed all of the tramps, and that they have reappeared only with the return of hard times. The tramp then, must be a man who will and can work if the inducements are strong enough, but who prefers a wandering life when employment is hard to get or unremunerative.

The tramp is a large and significant problem, which has but a little study. The size of it you can realize when you are told that several different estimates made by officials of railroads, placed the number of tramps in this country before the war at half a million. This estimate is based on the number of vagrants who are killed every year stealing rides on the railroads. More vagrants are killed this way in a normal year than trainmen and passengers put together. In one year it was estimated that these vagrants cost the railroads $18,500,000. This included what was paid for protection from them, and the thefts of freight which were attributed to them. For tramps often get food as well as transportation from the railroads. They break into shipments of foodstuffs and take what they can eat or carry away, often making it impossible for the railroads to deliver a case of canned goods, for instance, unless perhaps only a few cans have been stolen.

Varieties of Vagrants
The estimate of half a million which the railroads place upon the normal tramp army of America does not of course include only tramps properly so-called. It includes all those who steal rides on the railroads. Among these is a small number of men who are ordinarily steady workers, but are temporarily out of funds and ride the break beams of the rails and baggage cars to some new job. One young man, for example, who was a native of a far western state and worked his way through college, employed this method of crossing the continent four times a year.

Such cases are few. Besides the true tramps, the greater number of these vagrants belong to the class of seasonal workers. The tramps and the seasonal workers are of close kin. Many a man drifts into tramping by way of seasonal work, and the tramp may occasionally become a seasonal worker.

The seasonal workers are a large and well defined class. They make their livings at such work as cutting ice and selling timber in the winter and working on lake boats and in the harvest fields in the summer. When not employed these men congregate in large cities, such as Chicago, where there are great numbers of cheap lodging houses that cater to them. They soon learn to live for a time on the earnings of a few months. And will not take all-time employment if they can get it unless actually starving. A man who is used to making a living out of the harvest fields in the summer has been known to refuse work at ice-cutting in the winter on the ground that he did not need the money and would be merely taking bread out of the mouth of some habitual winter worker.

The lives of these men lack all comfort and stability, but they have change, adventure and leisure. Hence it is comprehensible that men of a certain type come to prefer it. Freedom and wandering are the things that we all dream of, and the man for whom the alternative is 16 hours a day of some monotonous mechanical task cannot perhaps be altogether blamed if he prefers a life in which labor and leisure alternate and there is change of scene and occupation.

Unfortunately society makes no allowance for men of that temper. The seasonal worker out of work is regarded as a vagrant. He is hunted by the police and pitted by charity. He and his pocketful of savings are the proper prey of all kinds of vice and fraud. No place is open to him but the lodging houses, which are dirty and comfortless places, breeders of the drug habit and of other habits which unfit men for normal social relations. Hence the seasonal worker generally deteriorates into a confirmed tramp, beggar, or thief.

A Study of Tramps
There has been much romance written about tramps, and also several honest realistic books. The best of these are by Jack London and Josiah Flynt, both of whom tramped with the tramps. These books bring vividly home to one the social waste and deterioration that go with vagrancy, but also the lure of freedom and adventure which leads men into it.

When it comes to scientific study of vagrancy, remarkably little has been done, considering what a large fraction of the nation's labor it absorbs. Perhaps the best thing that can be found in this line is a study of one thousand homeless men made by Mrs. Alice Willard Solenberg for the Russell Sage Foundation. She studied carefully a thousand men who applied for aid to a certain organization in Chicago. She found that of this thousand only 220 could be properly classified as tramps that is, men who wandered for the sake of wandering.

The distinguishing thing about the tramp, she found, was that he had an overpowering nomadic impulse. He is almost invariably a man who craves wandering as some others crave alcohol. In some the craving was incessant and kept them always on the go. In others it was periodical. Some men deserted their families regularly at intervals of years, wandered for a while, and then returned and settled down as usual. In yet other cases, the men had controlled the impulse to wander until some misfortune overtook them. Usually this was either the death of a wife, which broke up the home, or a failure in business or the loss of a sum of money. Such men usually deteriorated rapidly on drink and drugs, feeling that they had lost their proper places in society.

The continuous wanderer, on the other hand, is often a man who enjoys his way of life and keeps his self-respect. Tramps of this class come from all grades of society, and include a considerable proportion of college men. Many of them have ways of making money along the road. Some of them are very accomplished beggars. Many of these inveterate wanderers are intelligent men who differ from others chiefly in that they cannot endure the routine of a settled life and must wander. Explorers, professional globe-trotters, literary and journalistic vagabonds, are of the same type, but have had the good fortune to find a way of making a living that is congenial to them, and approved by society.

It is said that crime is the consequence of society. That is, every crime points to some imperfection in our social organization. The feeble-minded murderer would not have killed if he had been properly studied in the public schools and isolated.

Neither would the seasonal worker and the hobo be a menace, perhaps, if their cases were intelligently studied. The seasonal worker is a necessity. Crops could not be gathered nor boats manned, nor ice harvested without this army of floating labor. But society makes no proper provision for this man who is necessary to it. His numbers could easily be ascertained, his movements directed. Government could see to it that his living and working conditions were decent, as it does in the case of settled factory workers. As it is, when he works he is provided with the most degrading sort of surroundings, for the most part. The typical lumber camp, with its vermin and dirt, is an example. When he has finished his work in one place and starts for another, he becomes a hunted animal. The police keep him moving, give him 12 hours to leave town. The railroads throw him off when he tries to execute the order. Only the tramp lodging house opens its doors to him, trusts him and welcomes him. So he is hammered down into the ranks of the confirmed vagrants and criminals.

THE QUESTION BOX

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medicinal, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. Kindly inform me as to the meaning of a Congressman-at-Large. F. N. C.

A. After each census, Congress decides upon the basis of apportionment of representatives to inhabitants. The various State Legislatures make their own apportionments as to the states entirely, or to have one or more Representatives-at-Large.

Q. When was the first medical journal published in this country? R. R. K.

A. The first real American medical journal was the "Medical Repository" which appeared in 1797 and was discontinued in 1824. In 1799 a journal was published entitled "A Journal of the Practice of Medicine and Surgery in the Military Hospital in France," but this consisted entirely of transactions from the French journals of military medicine.

Q. What per cent of forest fires are caused by lightning? A. S. U.

A. A survey of forest fires for five years shows that 4.5 per cent of the fires are caused by lightning.

Q. How many books are there in the Bible? I. M. C.

A. In the Douay Version of the Roman Catholic Bible there are 46 books in the Old Testament and 27 books in the New Testament; in the Protestant Bible there are 39 books in the Old Testament and 27 books in the New Testament.

Q. Is there an unnecessary waste of gasoline by operators of automobiles? C. C. G.

A. The Bureau of Mines says that the greatest majority of motor cars and trucks are operated on rich mixtures suitable for maximum power, but very wasteful from the standpoint of gasoline economy. The average motor car carburetor is set for winter operation and is not changed in summer. A lesser mixture used in summer time would result in a great saving of gasoline.

Every man who lives in a Green House is not a Florist

A great many people think that young men's clothes are young men's clothes and that's all there is to it.

But there is one group of folks who know the difference—and thank goodness that is the young men themselves.

A young man's suit is not a young man's suit because of a label in the collar any more than a bed of pansies would be a bed of forget-me-nots if someone changed the marker.

To our knowledge there are only 2 young men's lines in the United States that rate the distinction of catering to the young men we are acquainted with.

We sell one of these.

So what does it matter who sells the other?

THE BOOK OF MARTHA

Ann Breaks Into Jane's Happiness

If ideal love is attainable in seven existences, Bob and I discovered it after our last long quarrel. We knew, at last, "love's double heart-beat—the finding of oneself and the forgetting of oneself in another."

I spent my waking hours planning how to please my beloved, and my darling husband seemed bent upon making amends to me for some of the wretchedness I had lately endured. I could see that this world would be a Paradise if human beings would honestly try to put more into life for others instead of striving to get so much out of it for themselves.

Our joy made us very tender of those who had sorrows to bear. Dear Martha's miseries became our own; Jimmy-boy's long sickness took on a serious side we had never before suspected; we discussed the advisability of telling our dread to his wife.

As for Ann—well—I wonder why it is that whenever I am perfectly happy, Ann Lorimer always snatches at my orange?

Whatever were my preoccupations, Ann and Van were always on the fringe of my consciousness, and Ann's imprudences were forever irritating me.

Jim Lorimer was not getting well. His relatives had to face the truth. Only his wife ignored it. Jim was able to ride up the great drive to his father's house, and he could walk the short distance between his bungalow and Bob's, but he had no strength and no desire to do more.

It was a gay winter, and the second season of Ann's extraordinary social success. Jimmy-boy was pleased to have his friends show his wife so much attention and he encouraged Ann to accept all of her invitations. He was perfectly willing to let Van take care of Ann if the occasion required an escort. Ann Lorimer was having the time of her life.

Daddy Lorimer has always called Van "a lady-killer"—strange, old-fashioned term—I suppose Jim considered Van quite safe because he never had been known to interfere with the matrimonial affairs of his personal friends. He thought Van never would.

Certainly I didn't wish to interfere with Ann Lorimer's flirtation, but I could see that she was getting too conspicuous. People soon would begin to gossip about her.

Ann had only herself to blame. She played up to Van whenever she had a chance. The more Van saw of Martha Palmer's spun gold coiffure, the more openly he admired her and Ann, observing, played her ingenious tricks to the limit as when she kicked off her oxfords in a crowded room!

Plainly, Ann was jealous—but not of her splendid husband!

"Ann is manufacturing a divorce as fast as she can," said I to Bob.

My husband looked very severe, almost as if it were all my fault, for a divorce in the Lorimer family is unthinkable—from the standpoint of the Lorimer men.

Adventures of the Twins

Olive Roberts Barton

"The Missing Monkeys"

The Fairy Queen was much pleased because so many of the circus animals had returned to the Place-Where-They-Ought-To-Be.

"It certainly looks," she said to Nancy and Nick and Flippety-Flap, "as though we were going to have a real circus after all, this year. The elephant is very contented and intends to stay. Mrs. Kangaroo, and Kicky Kang are more than happy since I gave each of them a new pair of boxing gloves. Gyp the Giraffe will stay forever now, and Mr. Lion and Mr. Seal will stay as long as they have such clever wives to boss them. Who is next?"

Flippety-Flap looked at the sole of his shoe. "The Monkey Family," said he. "They live in the fifth story of the Coconut-Palm-Tree Hotel on the Island of Farthest-Ever. Lastways that's the address I have here, but you never can tell about them, the rascals. 'Home Is Where The Grub Is,' is their motto, so you're likely to find them wherever a good square meal happens to be growing, or a round one, or an oblong one. They're not particular."

The Magical Mushroom then put in an appearance. "How are the Magic Green Shoes holding out, kiddies?"

said he. "Any holes in 'em yet? That wouldn't do, you know, with so many oceans to cross on your travels."

The twins took them off and handed them over, and the Magical Mushroom looked at them carefully. "They are good for a spell yet," he assured them. "Perhaps two spells. And how about your Language Charm?"

Nancy produced it, also. "Very good, my dears. I reckon you have enough magic to coax two scatter-brained monkeys back to the circus. Good-by and good luck."

Away sailed the twins and the fairy-man, Flippety-Flap.

Rustproof Waste Baskets

These baskets are guaranteed to be rust proof. They are fitted with solid steel bottom and smooth, flare rim.

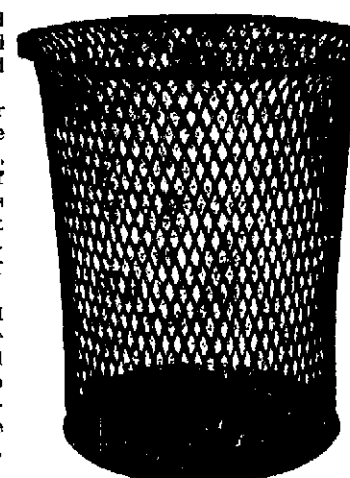

THE NEMCO is far stronger and more durable than any wire basket. It is made in one piece, of heavy Expanded Metal steel of the same gauge and thickness as is used in fireproof buildings. It will therefore withstand the hardest usage without getting out of shape. Note, too, that it is—

RUST PROOF—An unpainted basket is unsightly. Therefore the NEMCO is beautifully enameled in rich maroon or olive green to match the modern office steel filing equipment, also in pure white for homes, hospitals, restaurants, wash rooms, etc.

SOLID STEEL BOTTOM cannot rattle or become loose. This protects the floor if a lighted match, etc., be thrown among the waste and also prevents pencil shavings, etc., from sifting through.

SMOOTH RIM at top and bottom prevents injury to walls or furniture.

The new "Desk High" tucker or Towel Basket is very popular. 24 in. high, 12 in. diameter, $2.25

COUNCIL APPROVES
$200,000 IN BONDS

New High School for Kaukauna Assured by Action of Common Council.

Kaukauna—By a vote of 8 to 2 the city council Tuesday night ratified $200,000 bonds and authorized the mayor to arrange for the bond issue.

The question was debated for more than an hour. Many of the councilmen believed that amount too much to be expended for a high school. The advisability of holding off the building of the school for another year in the hope that material would be considerably lower, was also discussed.

In the end the vote showed eight aye and two noes. Bonds to the amount of $200,000 will be prepared by the city engineer and will be sold by the city treasurer.

Eids for the sewer contract were opened and the job was awarded to Walter O. Bahr of Manitowoc. Mr. Bahr asked $1.31 per running foot for 10 inch pipe and $1.35 per running foot for 12 inch pipe. His figures were the lowest of the six bids submitted. Work on the sewers is to begin seven days after the signing of the contract.

A meeting of Kaukauna Post No. 41 American legion, was held Tuesday evening in K. C. hall. Plans and preparations for a Memorial day celebration were begun. A parade is to be held in the afternoon.

Lawmakers Ponder Open Season for Chickens
(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison—The question of an open season for prairie chickens and partridges is causing the legislature much worry this session.

Sportsmen caused a bill to be introduced permitting shooting of the birds for five days in September of each year.

Farmer members of the legislature have interposed strong objections and are demanding continuation of the closed season. They said the birds were beginning to become numerous in the state and five days shooting would wipe them out.

The question has been up for consideration twice before the assembly. It is no nearer conclusion now than when first proposed. An effort will be made to force a vote on the question Friday.

COUNCIL SPENDS HOUR DISCUSSING WATER EXTENSION

Not Enough Money in Treasury to Grant All Petitions for Service.

ABANDON ALLEY PROJECT

City's Share of Alley Between College-ave. and Washington-st. is $40,000.

Members of the common council discussed the extension of water mains to outlying districts of the city for over an hour at the meeting Wednesday evening without getting anywhere. Petitions for water service in the various wards have been coming in at a lively rate, some of which have been turned down by the fire and water committee and others granted.

Extension of water service to suburban residents, especially on streets where sewers have been laid, was strongly urged by Mayor Hawes. In order to do this he recommended the passage of a resolution prepared by the city attorney which took advantage of a law in effect in Madison and several other cities of the state under which water mains are paid for by property owners in about the same manner as sewers and pavements.

The discussion was started by the fire and water committee turning down certain petitions for water service in the Third ward. The committee made it clear that there was not enough funds in the budget to grant all the petitions and that it was endeavoring to keep within the amount prescribed for that purpose.

Entitled to Service
Alderman Laabs insisted that the taxpayers in question were entitled to water service and that funds were available. He was opposed to taxpayers paying for their own mains and suggested that a certain amount

PUBLISH NAMES OF ALL DRAFT EVADERS

Government Is Preparing to Bring to Justice All World War Slackers.

Men who evaded military service during the World War and are considered slackers or draft dodgers are to be brought to justice by the government through publication of the lists of names. These lists have been prepared by the government and were mailed from Washington Tuesday.

Outagamie county's list has reached Camp Grant, Ill., where it is being printed in the army printing office and will be forwarded to the federal authorities in Milwaukee.

The department of justice works slowly, but eventually arrived at the point where the lists could be made public. The purpose is to round up the men who were not caught during the war, and a reward of $50 is offered for the arrest of each offender as a stimulus to citizens to aid in the capture of all slackers.

The list will contain nearly four thousand names of Wisconsin men, it is said. While this number is seemingly large, it is not over proportionate as regards population in the state, according to officials.

The list is being printed in sections, according to information from Camp Grant. It is the purpose of the war department to publish a section each day. But few names will be given at a time, that police and other agents of the government may have plenty of time for the recognition of men sought.

For the three states of Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, the total on the lists is said to exceed 17,000. The majority of these come from Illinois. A large part of the Michigan list is said to center around Detroit.

The work will be conducted from the headquarters of the Sixth corps, Chicago. Local police, sheriffs and other state officials have been asked to assist the government in the roundup.

It is the intention of the government to have the lists published in the newspapers and to be distributed to United States Marshals and state adjutant generals as well as estate and city officials.

Quarters are being prepared at Fort Sheridan, Rock Island, Fort Snelling, Camp Grant and Camp Custer for housing men taken in the roundup. A number of other camps and forts will be prepared in case the number of arrests exceeds expectations.

It is believed that a number of persons on the list have left the country since the armistice was signed. Most of the names are those of persons born in foreign countries, it is declared.

The subject was brought up by Alderman Laabs who charged merchants generally and milkmen particularly with profiteering and related several personal experiences. While prices are declining it was generally conceded they are still too high according to prices paid producers and several aldermen placed the burden upon purchasers who were willing to pay them. The aldermen were agreed it was out of their sphere to take action in the matter and after expressing their opinions adjourned until Friday evening at which time the sewer and hose contracts will be let.

TEACH WOMEN TO BE HOME NURSES

Red Cross Is Making Up Classes for Those Who Want to Learn Sick Room Care.

Women and girls of Outagamie county who desire training in home nursing are being enrolled in classes this week by the health committee of Outagamie Red Cross chapter.

Meetings of women were held in Dale and Medina Tuesday with Miss Eldora Welch, Chicago, class organizer of the central Red Cross division, and Miss Bertha Schultz, county nurse. These officers are being assisted in organizing classes in Dale by Mrs. Samuel Cannon, and in Medina by Mrs. A. E. Cooper and Mrs. Robert J. Wason.

Another series of meetings was held Wednesday in Kaukauna and Little Chute and on Thursday the organizers are to hold conferences in Seymour, Black Creek and Nichols. Other groups will meet later in the week. The plan is to hold a 2-hour class once each week in each city or town. Instruction will be given by a teacher engaged by the central division, usually a trained nurse. Each class is limited in size so those who enroll early are the ones who are sure of being admitted. Those in charge of organization expect to have all the classes made up this week. All instruction is to be free of charge.

Much importance attaches to this movement, because the responsibility for maintaining the family health and caring for the sick rests with the wife and mother. "Too little is known by the average woman of what really is required and the course aims to teach these things. Every person who enrolls will gain a further knowledge of the best methods of caring for the sick and at the same time will learn the importance of hygiene and sanitation in relation to health. The course is not designed to replace medical attention, but will show the importance of early medical care as well as teaching an efficient way to carry out the physician's instructions.

Need of wider and more definite knowledge of home nursing has been realized by the welfare agencies of the country and the Red Cross is organizing classes everywhere to meet this condition. Ninety per cent of the sickness is cared for in the home, placing a heavy responsibility on persons in the household to whom falls the lot of taking care of the patient. Half of each class period will be devoted to the lesson and the remainder to demonstrations.

RED CROSS NURSES HAVE BUSY MONTH

An average of approximately ten visits a day was made by Miss Elizabeth Nienhaus, Appleton public health nurse, during April, according to her monthly report to the Outagamie Red Cross chapter. Miss Mary Nigl, Kaukauna nurse, also had a busy month, examining a total of 296 school pupils in an endeavor to finish before the closing of the school term.

Miss Nienhaus cared for 83 patients, making a total of 292 visits. Seven patients were accompanied to physicians and four clinics were held. Miss Nigl cared for 26 patients, requiring 33 visits. She visited eight schools and found it necessary to exclude six out of two hundred ninety-six because of their condition. Miss Nigl sent notices to parents in 68 cases and referred 158 pupils to doctors or dentists. She found that 220 children were of normal weight, 5 were above normal and 41 below normal.

The home service section dealt with 99 service men and their families during the month, and 9 civilian families.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Schlitz Bros. company; Voigt's Drug Store, Union Pharmacy have been appointed agents for Allenhain in this vicinity with the understanding that the will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they received no benefit.

NEENAH BAKERS REDUCE BREAD PRICE ONE CENT

Neenah bakers have cut the price of bread 1 cent a loaf, according to announcement from the city. The prices now are 9 cents for a 16 ounce loaf and 14 cents for 24 ounce loaf. This was the first reduction in price since before the war. Fancy bakery goods also were reduced.

Neenah bakers say they will not cut the weight of loaves. They declare this is a real reduction in the cost of living.

Appleton bakers said recently there would be no reductions here until the next wheat crop is harvested.

LOSE CITIZENSHIP FOR VIOLATING LAW

Aliens Warned That Violation of Volstead Act Will Mean Drastic Penalty.

Naturalized citizens who violate the prohibition laws are in danger of losing their citizenship papers taken away from them. This announcement was made in open court at Crystal Falls Mich. Monday by Circuit Judge Flannigan.

Two subjects of Italy who were convicted of violating the prohibition laws were denied citizenship upon motion of George N. Dunne, of Appleton. United States naturalization examiner. The court told these men that they would not be admitted to citizenship for at least five years, as prohibition is now a part of the United States constitution and when a man is admitted to citizenship he takes an oath to support and defend the constitution. If he has recently violated the constitutional amendment, his oath is meaningless.

The judge then announced that he would revoke the citizenship of any alien who was admitted to citizenship if he afterward violated the prohibition law as this violation of the constitution showed that he was not living up to the oath he had taken in court.

Respect must be had for the United States constitution even though particular individuals may not believe in prohibition. The conferring of citizenship is discretionary with the courts and no man has an absolute right to his second papers.

The court may upon evidence of violation of the oath revoke the citizenship and compel the naturalized citizen to surrender his second papers for cancellation.

NEW LAW RAISES FEE OF WITNESSES

equitable compensation to persons called away from their employment.

Former fees were $1.50 a day for each witness attending a court of record, and $1 a day for a court of justice. The new fee of a witness in a court of record will be $2.50 a day and that of justice court $2 a day.

The new law also stipulates that witnesses shall be paid a traveling rate of 8 cents a mile each way. The former allowance was 4 cents a mile. Interpreters in courts of record continue to receive $2.50 a day, but the fee allowed those acting as justice court has been raised from $1 to $2 a day.

No official notice has been received by clerks of the local courts concerning enforcement of the new law.

SPEED MACHINES IN PATTEN PLANT

Although the Patten Paper Company's mill is operating only three days a week, many of the men are given full time employment on repair work about the plant and office. Rather extensive alterations are being made in some departments so the company will be in a position to produce larger quantities of paper under more favorable circumstances when business conditions improve.

Several changes have been made in the driving gear for the paper machines which will enable them to produce from 10 to 15 per cent more paper. It will be possible to speed the machines up to about 225 feet a minute when the repairs are completed.

Concrete floors are replacing wood in several departments, parts of the mill and the office are being repainted and other improvements are being made.

Maine factories produce annually about 800,000,000 wooden spools on which thread is wound for sale.

STONE DEAF TWO YEARS: CAN HEAR

"For the past two years I have been nearly stone deaf as a result of catarrh," said Mr. S. M. Meyer, 512 2nd Ave., Milwaukee, Tuesday. "Today, after taking three bottles of Kozak my hearing is almost normal again and improving daily."

"My stomach was also affected. Fainting and dizzy spells were common while gas would form causing bloating and distress. I always felt tired and worn out and so weak I could hardly walk at times. I had to force myself to eat. Pains in my back and sides were awful and I couldn't sleep at night. Since taking Kozak I can eat heartily without any forming of gas or dizzy spells. I feel much stronger and always cheerful. I am regaining my lost weight and feel like a different person. I'll never be without Kozak as this was the only medicine that ever did me any good whatever." Kozak is sold here exclusively by Schlitz Bros. Drug Store, Kaukauna Drug Store; Kaukauna; H. W. Spearbaker, New London.

OWEN TRIUMPHS IN ROLE OF "SHYLOCK"

Splendid Company Presents
"The Merchant of Venice"
Here Wednesday Night.

William Owen, noted Shakespearian actor, scored a wonderful triumph in his characterization of the role of Shylock in "The Merchant of Venice" before an appreciative audience in Appleton theatre Wednesday evening. There have been many wonderful characterizations of this difficult role since the Bard of Avon wrote his play but never before has Appleton seen anything which surpassed William Owen.

Owen was supported by a company which contained several real stars and as a result theatre goers are mighty well pleased with the production. J. A. McConnel, a veteran Shakespearian actor appeared in the role of Antonio and did it justice. The part of Bassanio was essayed by Meljean Hasselberg, a youngster who faces a great future. Hasselberg, not so long ago, played the role of Orlando in an all star revival of "As You Like It."

Rita Douglas, who has been playing with Shakespearian artists for a number of years, was delightful in the role of Portia and she was ably assisted by Miss Gretta Gould, also a student of Shakespearian drama, who played Nerissa.

The scenic effect left little to be desired. It was evident that neither time or money had been spared to send a really worthwhile Shakespearian company on the road and those who failed to see "The Merchant of Venice" Wednesday night lost more than can be measured by the price of admission tickets.

Two of Mr. Brazelton's collections, "A Narrative Suite and Three Nature Pieces" are receiving much favorable comment. They are interpretations of dance and nature scenes and are said to be quite enchanting. Two other selections are called "A Rustic Romance" and "Alla Tarantella."

Is Uric Acid Making You Ill?

Have you wondered what is causing you to feel so weak and tired—so blue and nervous? It may be uric acid. You have probably eaten too much meat which has filled your blood with uric acid, weakened your kidneys and caused that wearing backache, the headaches, dizziness and other bad feelings. Don't wait for serious trouble. Lighten your diet and use Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands recommend them. Ask your neighbor.

An Appleton Case
Mrs. W. H. Kramer, 815 Hancock st., says: "I suffered from rheumatic pains and kidney trouble. At times, I was lame and had pains in all parts of my body. Headaches and dizzy spells left me unfit for work. I tried different remedies, but nothing did me good until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. I improved rapidly and finally was better in every way."

MAHMOUT WILL BE FIT FOR GRUELLING BATTLE WITH HILL

Turk's Physician Says He is Rounding Into Condition Very Rapidly.

Yussif Mahmout, Turkish contender for the wrestling championship of the world, will be in excellent condition for his match with George Hill in Armory G Tuesday night, according to word from the Turk's physician in Chicago. The Turk has recovered from an attack of boils and is now working hard to increase his endurance and speed. The invader long has been known for his toughness and his ability to get out of wicked holds and he now is developing that asset.

Hill expects to arrive in Appleton on Monday to complete his training here. He has practically ceased working with his carnival in order to be in the best of condition. According to word received here Hill will weigh about 200 pounds when he goes on the mat and Mahmout will weigh about the same.

Mahmout and his manager, Emil Klank, want Ed Smith, noted Chicago sporting writer, to referee the match but Promoter Elmer Johnston insists L. W. Rhodes, Green Bay, will be the third man in the ring. Rhodes has officiated at all the matches here thus far and has given satisfaction and Johnston cannot see any reason why a change should be made.

Wrestling fans all over the country are showing keen interest in the bout. It will be a test for Hill and will also determine if Mahmout has come back. If Hill whips the Turk it probably will destroy the latter's chance of getting a match with Strangler Lewis and will put the former in line for battles with champions.

Insider Says

Joe Beckett now asserts that he will bring his glassy chin to Jersey just to win.

Dopesters who picked the Yankees to win are offering to sell out with no takers.

Jim Jeffries is now hauling milk. 'Spoke Jack Dempsey will be doing that this time next year.'

One by one Judge Landis is getting acquainted with the big league stars. "See the judge, first," is a mighty handy way for managers to quaff away their troubles.

The White Sox already have seven postponed games. More evidence that the "clipped" Sox aren't as fast as the black ones were last year.

They'll soon be calling Babe Ruth the George Kelly of the American League.

If Jack Dempsey does any running in Atlantic City will the Boardwalk?

Eastern critics are now agreed that Charley Faddock is the greatest time killer of all times.

The Cards are being shuffled roughly in the National League.

Being a sparring partner for Dempsey gets publicity with the reverse English.

Leo Flynn, Bill Brennan's stable boss, says Dempsey will knock Georges out in less than half the time it took him to make Brennan curl up.

"Boyle's Thirty Acres" is the subject of New Jersey clergymen's sermons now.

Last spring Doc Johnston hogged the limelight by his hitting. This spring it's his brother Jimmy. 'Sno difference. 'Sall in the family.

The home run fame which Babe once owned is now diminished quite a lot. Since Kelly knocks 'em stiff.

GREEN BAY BIDS FOR GOLFING TOURNAMENT

Green Bay.—Directors of the North-eastern Wisconsin Golf association will meet Saturday noon to discuss plans for the annual tournament and election of officers.

The date and preliminary plans for the annual team match between a team of members of the association and a team from the upper peninsula of Michigan will be discussed.

Plan Team Match

The team match was inaugurated last year when a match was played at the Blue Mount Country club at Milwaukee which resulted in the cup being won by the Michigan team.

Members of the Fox River Golf club of Green Bay are putting forth a concerted effort to secure the annual tournament of the Northeastern Golf association for Green Bay.

The Northeastern Wisconsin Golf association includes the clubs of Sheboygan, Manitowish, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, Waupun, Green Lake, Appleton, Menominee, Mich., and Green Bay. H. O. Fairchild of Green Bay is its president.

CURRIE WINS CITY PIN CHAMPIONSHIP AND $25

Other prize winners were Herman Strutz, second, $15, score, 926; F. Rubbert, third, $10, score, 927; P. Abendroth, fourth, $5, score, 933.

Last place and a prize of $2 was given to E. Norem with a score of 694.

STAR SHORTSTOP WITH BLACK SOX

Several Men of Major League Caliber Will Play Here Sunday Afternoon.

Immense posters advertising the baseball game between Brandt's Fox River Valley leaguers and the Calgary Black Sox here Sunday afternoon have been received. The posters contain a picture of the Negro team which is reported to be one of the best in the country.

Only a few of the men who played with the Union Giants here last year will be in the visitors' lineup. The new team consists of a few men from the old Giants team and the remainder from the old Calgary Black Sox, making an aggregation of stars.

Anderson, a "kid" shortstop, is said to be one of the best invaders in the country. He covers a world of territory, is fast and can hit the ball hard. Several other men of major league caliber are on the team it is said.

No more changes will be made in the Appleton lineup, it was reported from Brandt's office. Woods will be placed at third base and the rest of the team will line up as it did last Sunday.

The team's showing against Winnipeg has assured fans that it is of high class which practically assures capacity attendance next Sunday if weather conditions are at all favorable. The league season opens the following Sunday with Harry Silverster's Kimberly team as the opposition.

SHORT SPORTS

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Baseball ceased to be a sport and became a burlesque here Wednesday when Ohio State defeated the University of Chicago, 20 to 5, and Purdue defeated Northwestern, 15 to 2.

Robertson Reinstated

Chicago.—Davis Robertson, Cub outfielder, was reinstated by Judge Landis Thursday.

He was suspended when he refused to go south for training with the team.

Wiggins Shades Gibbons

Grand Rapids, Mich.—Chuck Wiggins earned a shade over Mike Gibbons in a ten round bout here Wednesday night. Wiggins led in all but two rounds and those were even.

TWO MORE FIGHTERS ON HAND TO HELP DEMPSEY

By United Press Leased Wire
Summit, N. J.—Jack Dempsey's family of helpers was increased Thursday with the arrival of Alex Trambidas, Portland middleweight, and Steve Tatz, Scranton middleweight.

The champion will engage in only light work with them until he starts his real training at Atlantic City.

Commenting Thursday on the report that Georges Carpentier said he would win by a knockout in three rounds, Dempsey said:

"Maybe he will. I prefer to do my fighting in the ring."

Speed and Courage! Derby Choice Has Both

Tryster Tearing Down Stretch in Workout at Churchill Downs

Lexington, Ky.—Tryster, Harry Payne Whitney's entry in the Kentucky Derby, is called the colt with the courageous heart.

The great three-year-old can go the route. He has proved it.

He has tremendous speed, a world of stamina and handles himself on the track with the true courage of a blue blood.

Tryster was the favorite to win the $50,000 Derby stakes in the winter book.

His odds have been cut down since he met defeat at Havre de Grace at the hands of Paul Jones, a few days ago.

Yet Tryster gained glory in losing. He carried stake weight and gave weight to Paul Jones. The race was run on a sloppy track. In it the great-hearted colt showed his stamina—one of the main assets for a Derby winner.

Leonardo II, figured to be Tryster's chief rival in the Derby classic, jumped into the lead as a favorite recently when he stepped the half-mile in 45 seconds, the mile in 1:35 4-5, and the mile and a sixteenth in 1:42 4-5, only a small fraction of a second behind the world's record at Lexington. Since then Leonardo II lost in the Lexington stake race, finishing behind E. R. Bradley's pair—Black Servant and Bohave Yourself, and Uncle Joe, a rank outsider.

Yet Leonardo II showed he was a speedster and that he had plenty of stamina. His weight carrying ability and courage are yet to be tested. He hasn't had a chance to show these qualities yet.

If he doesn't have them and Tryster is near him or the leader in the stretch at the Downs in the historic Derby it will likely be Tryster's race. His courage will carry him through.

SPORT VIEWS AND NEWS

Much has been said and written recently about professionalism among college athletes. The Little Five conference, of which Lawrence is a member, has taken a very pronounced attitude in this matter and has decreed that players who participate in any game where admission is charged, except when they are playing as members of the college team, shall be regarded as professionals. This means that no longer is necessary to prove that a player received pay for his services to prove he is a professional. The mere fact that he played in a game to which admission is charged is sufficient.

Booster days for baseball and other sports events seem to be out of favor in Appleton. The mere suggestion that the opening game of the league season be a "booster day" for which tickets would cost $1 brought a storm of protest. Fans here are willing to pay the general admission for every game and will support the team to the best of their ability but they shie at attempts to exact admissions for two games to see one contest. Mr. Brandt cannot afford to antagonize fans by charging booster day prices and it is more than probable this will not be attempted.

Wally Schang came home to roost in a recent game against the Boston Red Sox. Traded to New York by this team during the winter swapping season Schang has sort of been breezing along in mediocre style but he opened up against the Bostonians and it was his timely hitting that paved the way for a win. Wally pounded out four hits out of four times up which is quite some bingling for a player who is supposed to be sliding backwards.

The eyes of the horse racing world will center on Louisville, Saturday where the forty-seventh Kentucky derby will be staged. About sixteen of the finest specimens of horse flesh in the country will face the starter and turf writers agree that it should be one of the greatest struggles in history. Aside from the glory, the winner walks off with about $50,000 in added money.

Carpentier sails for the U. S. Saturday, and with him comes the hopes of France. The heavyweight title battle is less than two months away and the Frenchman is playing safe by coming across early and completing his training stunts on this side of the pond. One thing is sure, the swat-ter from Gay Paree is watching his step every bit of the way and when he steps into the ring to mix with Dempsey, he will probably be as fit a fighter as ever stepped into the padded arena.

BREAK ROBIN'S STREAK

New York.—A spirited eighth inning rally enabled New York to break Brooklyn's winning streak, the Giants winning by a score of 3 to 2.

Gaston, a recruit catcher, drove in New York's tying run with a three base hit and Burns drove in Monroe who ran for Gaston with a single, the thirteenth hit made off Ruetheer.

It was the first time New York has defeated Brooklyn this year.

BABE GETS "IN BAD" WITH YANK MANAGER

Home Run Slugger Likes to Keep Late Hours and is in Poor Shape.

New York.—Babe Ruth, the king of swat, is now in the bad graces of Miller Huggins, the sawed-off manager of the Yanks.

The New York club owners deny that the home run king has been threatened with suspension but all the baseball writers know that Huggins is displeased with the way the bumbino is acting.

Huggins wants his boys in early at night and the babe loves the rush of wind against his face as he speeds under the moon in his high powered car.

Huggins claims he can't insist upon some of the lesser lights following the mandates of training if he permits any exceptions.

Ruth is still overweight and while his condition hasn't taken the edge off his batting eye, his work in the field has been anything but that required of a major league gardener.

Managers have various ideas of training rules. McGraw makes the Giants follow the straight and narrow path. Johnny Evers, a pupil of the Frank Chance school, is a strict disciplinarian.

Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker, the not-

By United Press Leased Wire
Wednesday's hero—Gaston.

The Giants' rookie catcher, batting as a pinch hitter in the eighth inning, tripled with two on and scored on a single beating the Robins, 3 to 2.

The Tigers overcame a six run lead secured by the White Sox and won out by a score of 11 to 8.

Tony Boeckel went on a rampage knocking in two runs and scoring another and the Braves beat the Phils, 5 to 2.

Loose fielding by the Cincinnati Reds and good pitching by Freeman gave the Cubs 3 to 1 victory.

ed playing managers, have different ideas.

Cobb refused to lay down a set of training rules when he took hold of the Tigers this spring. He said he would leave it up to the boys to keep in condition according to their own ideas.

Speaker succeeds very well with the "brotherly" line of leadership. He pals and runs around with his players and when he's ready to turn in, they turn in with him.

The Scotch song, "Comin' Through the Rye" does not refer to a rye field, but to the River Rye.

LAWRENCE TRACKMEN AT RIPON SATURDAY

McChesney Confident of Whipping Red and White Team on Ingalls Field.

Saturday, May 7, will mark the opening of the track season for the Little Five teams. At least three of the teams will compete in dual meets, and coaches will have a chance to size up prospects for the state meet which will be held at Beloit May 28.

Ripon and Lawrence, old time rivals, will meet on Ripon's track. While Lawrence is known to be strong in certain events, Ripon should easily win the meet as Olsen still has sure point getters left from his 1920 champs.

Olsen will have real stars representing Ripon in Haun, Harvey, Eaton, Boesem, Gunderson, Morgan and Fehandt, besides promising new material. Lawrence should win the pole vault, javelin and high jump and will be strong in the distances. McChesney will have his best bets in veterans Hooley, Mitchell, Wheeler, Williams and Kubitz, besides freshmen prospects.

Beloit will travel to Whitewater to meet the teachers. Osgood has a fine lot of aspirants for the cinder paths this year and Gold backers have high hopes for copping the state title. With Gates, Beerwald and Schacht in the hurdles, Addie and Langworthy in the sprints, Moore, Smith and Chapel in the distances, Beloit has stars that will collect a lot of points for the Gold. Beloit will be weak in the weights and Osgood must find new men for these events or rely upon the track events to win the bacon for the stateliners this year.

Carroll should be strong in the weights. Spahr and Kramers are both weight men sure of placing in collegiate meets. Haugen is a good pole vaulter, while Mischler and Peterson look good in the dashes. Hetz in the distances should again prove the best in the state.

CUBS DEFEAT REDS

Chicago.—Chicago defeated Cincinnati 3 to 1 in the eighth inning Wednesday night. The Cubs won the series here on Wednesday by bunting hits behind the errors of the visitors. Freeman pitched in fine form and was given airtight support.

TYGERS RALLY AND WHIP WHITE SOX

Detroit.—Detroit Americans overtook Chicago after the victors made five runs in the first inning here on Wednesday and won, 11 to 8. Chicago outbait Detroit but the locals bunched their blows to better advantage. Cobb made a diving stop of Falk's double in the seventh and threw to Young, who caught Collins at the plate. Score: Chicago ..... 5 1 0 1 0 1 0 0—9
Detroit ..... 3 0 5 0 1 2 0 0—11

Batteries: Chicago—Hodge, Kerr and Schalk; Detroit—Sutherland, Rhmke, Middleton and Ainsmith.

BRAVES WIN IN RALLY
Boston.—Meadows lost his effectiveness in the eighth inning on Wednesday and Boston defeated Philadelphia 5 to 2. The hitting of Boeckel, who drove in two runs and scored another, and the fielding of Cruise were features. Score: Philadelphia ..... 0 2 0 0 0 0 0 0—2
Boston ..... 0 0 0 0 2 2 1 5—5

LARGET IS BACK IN PRISON AT WAUPUN

Thief Captured Here Will Serve Full Sentence for Flight From Justice.

Edward J. Larget has been recaptured at Junction City and was taken back to the state penitentiary in handcuffs and chains. He will be required to serve his full 2-year term without allowances for good behavior. Larget is the man who was captured through the assistance of John Wagner, in charge of the workhouse, following the theft of household goods of a former Appleton family at Neenah. He escaped from the Oshkosh county jail and was recaptured. He was sent to Waupun and later became an honor prisoner at Taycheedah, near Fond du Lac.

Larget left the Taycheedah honor camp to meet his wife and was being taken back to Waupun by automobile. He jumped out of the machine at Fond du Lac and disappeared. The man hid at Oshkosh for several days and Friday boarded a train at the Northern state hospital

MOTHERS DISCUSS CARE OF CHILDREN

Youngsters Must Respect Home Rules to Keep Them From Being "Spoiled."

"Children dread the sabbath," said Mrs. J. H. McCombe Wednesday afternoon at the mother's meeting held in the German Methodist church. "We must teach the children to love the sabbath and it is up to the mothers to train them in such a way that they will get the right conception of it."

Then, we take a prefix, or a suffix, from some other language, and add it, after or before, and we have another new word. Or when a word is too long, we shorten it—because we English-speaking people are great for saving time.

Thousands of new words are defined in The New Universities Dictionary which the Post-Crescent is now offering almost free to its readers. It ought to be in every home, office, workshop and study. ## SUFFERED SEVEN LONG YEARS

Finally Relieved by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ravenswood, W. Va.—"For seven long years I suffered from a female trouble and inflammation so that I was not able to do my housework. I consulted several doctors but none seemed to give me relief. I read in a paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I decided to try it, and before the first bottle was gone I found great relief so I continued using it until I had taken eight bottles. Now I am very well and can do my own housework. I can gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine to suffering women."—Mrs. BERTHA LIERING, R. F. D., Ravenswood, W. Va.

The ordinary day of most housewives is a ceaseless treadmill of washing, cooking, cleaning, mending, sweeping, dusting and caring for little ones. How much harder the tasks when some derangement of the system causes headaches, backache, bearing-down pains and nervousness. Every such woman should profit by Mrs. Liering's experience and try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
